

Vaccinium Ovatum

Scarlet Ovation

 Gurjit Sidhu

'Scarlet Ovation' is a compact selection of the Pacific Northwest's native Evergreen Huckleberry. Its new foliage is consistently more scarlet in color and will stay to around a dense 3' high.

Late Spring, early Summer flowers yield a fine crop of culinary worthy black huckleberries in the Fall.

Full sun for the best color & fruiting, but would appreciate relief in the warmest areas.

Well drained, humitic soil with regular water until established. Fairly drought tolerant in maturity.

Very wildlife friendly.

Very pollinator friendly.
