

Ficus Carica

Panache

The distinctive Panache, aka Panache Tiger Stripe or Bizzarria di Sori Fig Tree produces attractive fruits with a green and yellow striped exterior. When ripe, the fruit inside is strawberry red with a slightly dry but extremely sweet flesh. The plants have good vigor, with growth up to 20 feet tall and multiple branches. Fruits ripen very late in the season, in August to September, so Tiger Fig plants thrive in climates with long growing seasons in Zones 7-10. Self-Fruitful.
